In China Not Considered Important by President of Republic

GOVERNMENT CAN SUPPRESS UPRISING

When Adequate Troops Arrive At Scene Of Disorder

RULER GIVES INTERVIEW

In Which He Says There Is No Revolutionist Campaign But Only A Skirmish That "Gives Me So Much Work That It Increases My Appetite"—Enthronement Delayed.

(Associated Press Telegram) Peking, China, Feb. 19.—In an exclusive interview with the correspondent of The Associated Press at the palace today, President Yuan Shi Kai minimized the importance of the rebellion now in progress and expressed confidence of the ability of the government to suppress the uprising when adequate troops reach the upper Yangtze Kiang. Vice Admiral Tsai Ting Kan, Confidential secretary of Yuan Shi Kai, acted as interpreter.

"There is no campaign, but only a skirmish," said Yuan Shi Kai, "but it gives me so much work that it increases my appetite."

The president replied laughingly to a remark regarding his excellent physical condition and good spirits refuting rumors of his ill health. Discussing his enthronement he said:

"Although a date in February was sanctioned the enthronement could not take place because of the Yunnan rebellion which necessitated military operations. Therefore, it was decided, with saddened hearts, to postpone it."

The president said the drafting of a new constitution would be begun within a few days. When it is finished the constitution will go before a national convention for suggestions. He did not predict the date of promulgation of the constitution. Discussing its nature he said:

"We shall adopt from all countries the provisions best suited to China without leaning toward any foreign constitution."

Yuan Shi Kai had this to say regarding probable recognition of the monarchy:

"I cannot tell what governments will or will not delay. Each will recognize the monarchy, according to circumstances. Regarding China's position as affected by the war, the president said:

"China has made every effort to maintain strict neutrality. The Chinese government is not aware that the entente powers or the other belligerents have made any substantial charges against us for not having done so. China will endeavor to remain on friendly terms with all the treaty powers."

Yuan Shi Kai then reverted to the insurrection:

"Yunnan and Kwel-Chow have few troops and little ammunition," he said. "How soon the rebellion will be crushed depends upon the roads and the rapidity of communication. You must remember that it was easy for the rebels to make a short dash into Sze-Chuen whereas the government troops must make a different trip to reach the rebels. Well supplied troops will speedily suppress the rebels on reaching the scene."

BRITISH STEAMER ASHORE ON A REEF

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Feb. 19.—The British steamer Comrie Castle is ashore on a reef off Mombasa, British East Africa. Her passengers have been landed.

The Comrie Castle was last reported at Marseilles on Jan. 19. She is a 5173-ton vessel, owned by the Union Castle Mail Steamship Co. of London. She was built in 1903 at Glasgow.

GIRL MURDERED

WEEK AGO; MAN ARRESTED TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram) Ironton, O., Feb. 19.—Frank C. Mowery, of West Park, Cleveland, spent last night in a cell in the Lawrence county jail here, following his arrest yesterday on a charge of murdering Estelle Leola Hovey, whose body was found in Mill Brook Lake at Portsmouth, a week ago.

Mowery made no statement other than to reiterate what he has previously said, that he met the girl at Portsmouth Jan. 29, the day she disappeared, but left her there and came to Ironton.

Sheriff Smith of Scioto county, arrived today to take Mowery back to Portsmouth. No arrangements have yet been made to admit the prisoner to bail, but it was expected that an uncle of the lad, John Dunn, of Huntington, W. Va., would come here and sign a bond, provided bail was fixed.

PETITION

FROM CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS, PROTESTING AGAINST H. V. RAILROAD'S RATE

For Carrying Coal—Claim That Reduction Would Start Mines and Give Employment.

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Feb. 19.—Survey of living and industrial conditions in the Hocking Valley coal region and a reduction of the present 85-cent coal-carrying rate, was asked in a petition received today by the state public utilities commission from nine civic, rural and mercantile organizations of the Hocking and Sunday Creek districts. Charles H. Bryson, of Athens, former state civil service commissioner, filed the petitions for the organizations.

The claim is set forth that the $1 coal rate proposed and later withdrawn by the Hocking Valley railway would cause thousands of acres of coal lands to be abandoned, give undue advantage to West Virginia and Kentucky coal interests, and throw many miners out of work. Even the present 85-cent rate makes "enormous profits" for the Hocking Valley railway, the petition asserts. A reduction of that rate, it is said, "would bring relief to a distressed and discouraged portion of the state and opportunity for the miners there to properly feed, clothe and educate their children."

Yuan Shi Kai then reverted to the insurrection:

"Yunnan and Kwel-Chow have few troops and little ammunition," he

SPLENDID

Co-operation of Russian Troops Over Wide Area About Erzerum

REACHED A CLIMAX ON JANUARY 29TH

When Both Fortresses Were Forced To Capitulate

ARTILLERY BOMBARDMENT

From Heights Surrounding The Strongholds Made Ready The Onslaught—Attackers Dragged Heavy Guns Up Mountain Side Under Severe Weather Conditions.

(Associated Press Telegram) Petrograd, Feb. 19.—(Via London.)—The first story in detail of the capture of Erzerum by the Russians reached Petrograd semi-officially today. It shows complete co-operation of Russian troops over a wide area, which made useless resistance on the part of the Turks. Apparently, the Turks realized the fall of Erzerum was inevitable and withdrew most of their forces before the onslaught, leaving the garrisons of the widely separated forts to their fate.

The campaign began to reach its climax in the last days of January. The troops of General P— from the north and those of General K— from the east, moved against the first line forts under the most severe weather conditions. The Russians dragged their artillery to the heights surrounding fortresses and when all was ready began to bombard forts Kara Grudek, twenty miles, and fort Dalan Gez, fifteen miles northeast of Erzerum, preparatory to the bayonet assault.

On January 29 both forts capitulated. The taking of Dalan Gez made a breach in the outer line of defense along the Beveboinu range in front of the city. The capture of Karagudek opened a direct passage through the Karabagas pass to the city proper from the northeast.

Fort Tafta lies midway between these two fortresses. In a night attack on January 30, this fort was captured, leaving only Chaban Bebe between the two armies operating from this quarter.

On February 2, the Russians began to storm the whole front line on the Beve Boinu heights. By evening all these positions were in Russian hands, permitting complete junction of the troops on the northeast. The fall of this line quickly decided the fate of the inner forts.

Meanwhile, the Palan Tekon group of forts, seven miles to the south had been surrounded on three sides. The general assault on the second line began without giving the men time for a rest. The five inner forts made only a feeble resistance. Their garrisons beat a hasty retreat into the city and followed the bulk of the troops which already were on the roads leading westward.

Only the rear guard took part in the fighting of the last day. Signs that the evacuation was under way were observed immediately after the fall of the first fort.

It is thought possible the Turks will attempt to make a stand at the first favorable point, which is in the hills on the western edge of Erzerum valley, eleven miles distant but it is not regarded as probable that they have been able to erect any extensive fortification there.

The Russians are hastily repairing the small damage done to the fortresses against a possible attempt of the Turks to retake them.

No news has been received of the fate of Ekvad Pevzi Pasha, commander of the ninth corps who was in charge of the defense of Erzerum.

It is reported that reinforcements from Thrace were on the way to Erzerum, but that they were still five or six days distant when the city was surrendered. Artillery had been shipped by sea to Trebizond. A telegram from Sebastopol reports the bombardment of Vitezsee on the Black Sea, 17 miles east of Trebizond. The Turks are evacuating.

CHAIRMAN STONE DEFENDS WILSON

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Feb. 19.—Chairman Stone of the foreign relation committee replying today to the criticisms of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing for withholding a part of the data and correspondence called for in the Fall resolution, declared there were abundant precedents for such action and cited the action of President Taft and Secretary Knox in withholding correspondence between the United States and Colombia, with relation to the partition of Panama.

Jane Shackelford, Colored Cateress, Beaten To Death With a Table Leg; Her Brother-in-Law Also Murdered

Sam Shackelford was taken into custody at 8 o'clock this afternoon as a suspect in connection with the murder of Mrs. Jane Shackelford and her brother-in-law, Elias Woodfork.

Mrs. Jane Shackelford, 93, and Elias Woodfork, 70, negroes, were found murdered at their home, 70 Hoover street at noon today, by Chief McManus and Mrs. Frank Ransom. The couple had been beaten to death with the leg of a table. The motive for the crime was evidently robbery, as the house was ransacked from cellar to the garret.

Police Chief Sheridan and Coroner Jackson were notified and hurried to the scene. The police immediately began a search for a man thought to be implicated in the crime. It is the belief of the police that the couple were beaten to death early Thursday evening. Neighbors say that they have not seen the murdered pair since Thursday.

The house was strewn with furniture and blood splattered on the wall, showed that the couple had fought their assailant until beaten into insensibility. Criss Brothers ambulance moved the bodies to the undertaking parlors in West Main street.

Mrs. Shackelford is said to have had a considerable sum of money, and this, according to the police, was the motive for the crime. She was well known in Newark, having been active as a cateress for some years.

HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

Neighbors stated to the police that they had not noticed any unusual proceedings around the house for two days. However they missed the woman Friday but no concern was felt over the matter until she did not appear today.

An investigation made by Mrs. Ransom and the McManis boy disclosed the two bodies horribly mutilated. The man was lying in the kitchen near the door and his head was crushed to a pulp. The kitchen showed signs of a struggle, as blood was splattered over the walls and the furniture in the room demolished.

Mrs. Shackelford's body was lying near a stove in the dining room and was also in a terrible condition. The murderer had broken off a table leg and with this primitive weapon beat down the two aged people who were unable to withstand his terrific attack.

As soon as the crime was discovered

Chief Sheridan took personal charge of a squad of men in a search for the murderer, who they believe is well known to them.

Coroner Jackson made an investigation of the premises and ordered the bodies moved to the Criss Brothers' parlors. The crime was one of the foulest known to the annals of Newark crime.

BORN IN SLAVERY.

Mrs. Shackelford was one of the most interesting colored characters in the city. Of southern birth she possessed all the characteristics of her race, and was a "freed" negro. She was born in slavery over 90 years ago, and came to Newark to make her home about 70 years ago. Her exact age is not known but she is thought to be nearly a hundred.

She was widely known in the city from her ability as a cook, and her services were in constant demand in all circles, when there were any parties or dinners to be given. Even at her advanced age she had not retired from active service. Crippled with rheumatism, so that she could scarcely get around, conveyances would be sent for her and she would

CAPTURE

Of Any Considerable Number of Turkish Prisoners Not Probable

WHEN ERZERUM FORTRESS SURRENDERED

As Defenders Already Were On The Retreat

REINFORCEMENTS DELAYED

And Were Five Or Six Days' March From The City When It Capitulated—Russians Now Are Reported Active Along The Black Sea Coast To The North Of Erzerum.

(Associated Press Telegram) London, Feb. 19.—While no news has been received of organized resistance by the Turks in the vicinity of Erzerum since that Turkish stronghold in Armenia was taken by the Russians, Petrograd advices indicate that it was thought possible the Turks would make a stand on the western edge of Erzerum Valley, eleven miles from the city. It is not thought probable, however, that they were able to erect any powerful fortifications there. The latest Petrograd official statement reported the Turks fleeing in disorder.

Details from the Russian side indicate that there were no large captures of men when the fortress fell. The bulk of the Turkish troops apparently were well on the retreat westward at the time the inner forts were taken, only the rear guard taking part in the last day's fighting.

Reinforcements which the Turks were sending to Erzerum are reported to have been five or six days' march distant when the city was surrendered.

Meanwhile the Russians are active along the Black Sea coast to the north, a Sebastopol dispatch reporting the bombardment of Vitezsee, 15 miles east of Trebizond. A Russian advance landward in the direction of Trebizond on the coast northwest of Erzerum, already has been unofficially reported.

There appears to be somewhat greater military activity in Galicia than for some days past. Petrograd reports an Austrian offensive on the Dnieper near Usciecko, an attack being launched after intensive artillery preparation. The assault was repulsed, it is declared.

Indications that some important military movement by the Germans may be in preparation on the western front are furnished by advices from the Belgium frontier received in Amsterdam. Heavy troop movements have been in progress in south and central Belgium, say the dispatches along the railroads to the west and south.

SCHOOL GIRL WAS KILLED BY CYANIDE

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Feb. 19.—Cyanide of potassium was the poison which killed Marian Frances Lambert, Lake Forest high school girl according to a report made to the coroner today by Ralph C. Webster. Dr. Webster said the digestive organs showed no trace of an admixture of chemicals. The white crystals found under the finger nails of the girl were originally cyanide of potassium, he said.

The report is to be read Monday at the inquest into the cause of the death of the young woman.

Dr. Webster is analyzing the crystals of cyanide and other poison found in an ash pile of the greenhouse at the home of Will H. Orpet, who is charged with the murder of Miss Lambert.

Harvester Company Accused Of Disciplining Bank for Aiding Yucatan Sisal Growers

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Feb. 19.—The senate agricultural committee today decided to call upon the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, to submit a statement showing the deposits of the International Harvester Company for the last three years in order to determine the truth of charges that the Harvester company had disciplined the Chicago bank for extending financial aid to the sisal growers of Yucatan.

The committee is investigating charges that the Harvester company and the Plymouth Cordage Company combined to monopolize the sisal output and prevent independent twine dealers from obtaining raw material, and counter charges that the Pan-American Commission Corporation, of which Sol. Wexler, a New York banker, was the head, financed a sisal monopoly, with the idea of putting up the price to American merchants.

The committee has been told that the Pan-American corporation was not formed until the planters had been unable to make loans from independent bankers, who refused because of alleged threats from the Harvester and Plymouth companies.

A telegram was read into the record from the Continental and Commercial bank, denying that the Harvester company had withdrawn its account. Levy Mayer, of Chicago, counsel for the Pan-American corporation, who made the original charges that the Harvester company had attempted to influence the bank, read the message, and similar denials were made in a message from the Harvester company, read by its counsel, Walter L. Fisher.

Wexler charged today that the Harvester company had sought by intimidation to prevent the National City Bank of New York as well as the Continental from loaning money to aid sisal growers.

Police Believe Poisoner Still Is Hiding in Some Suburb of New York City

(Associated Press Telegram) Chicago, Feb. 19.—Photographic copies of the first letter to a New York newspaper in which Jean Crone boasted of having poisoned soup at the Archbishop Mundelein banquet here last week, and a photograph of three men, one supposed to be Crone, were received from New York today by Captain Hunt. Employees in the kitchen of the University club where Crone was assistant chef will be asked to try to identify his supposed photograph.

With the letter and picture there came also a postcard, purporting to be written by Baldo Barnesalo, a brother-in-law of Antonio Coda, questioned the other day as being a friend of Crone. The Chicago police were asked by New York officers to apprehend Barnesalo.

A petition for the release on a writ of habeas corpus of John Aliegrini, held pending a hearing into charges of conspiring with Crone, was filed before Judge Burke in criminal court but the judge, a guest at the banquet was made ill, he said, and was not yet well, so he declined to hear the petition Alie-grini's lawyers then filed it before another judge and the hearing will be held Monday.

Captain Hunt today asked the police of Middletown, Conn., to question Paul Crone, a brother of John. Hunt thinks Crone is hiding in some suburb of New York.

Granville

(Special to the Advocate.)

One of the prettiest and daintiest reminders of Washington's Birthday occurring in Granville, was at the meeting of the Social Union in the social rooms of the Baptist church on Friday afternoon, February 18, when Mrs. C. W. Chamberlain, Mrs. A. M. Brumback, Mrs. T. G. Field, Mrs. Anna Campbell and Mrs. W. H. Daibey entertained the women of the congregation. The tea table was set in the center of the large room, with old fashioned silver, old candlesticks with fascinating prisms, and old blue china of our grandmothers' day. Mrs. Field and Mrs. Helen Hunt, both beautiful in dainty dresses of lavender, and wearing the capricious and old fashioned silk suits of the fashion endeared to us through many generations, sat in stately, high backed chairs and poured hot chocolate for some thirty guests, which was passed by Mrs. Brumback, Mrs. Colwell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain, and Miss Judith Nichol, with delicious white and nut bread sandwiches. A brief but most enjoyable program was presented by the hostess, beginning with two songs by a little girls' quartette, composed of Katherine Rohrer, Harriet Belt, Marion Cook and Juanita Jones, which captivated the audience. A charming group of songs was given by Mrs. Marion Rose Johnson, with Mrs. Coons at the piano, and two short readings by Mrs. J. E. Megaw, which were much enjoyed. The well rounded entertainment.

Proceeding the social, the annual business meeting held full sway. Mrs. Case, the president, in the chair, until the officers for the ensuing year had been elected. The secretary, Mrs. T. A. Lewis, who had been absent for several months, was in her place and the tellers were: Mrs. C. D. Coons, Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. C. W. Henderson and Mrs. August Oudbrecht. An interesting paper on American Indians was read by Mrs. Mary Nichol Jones, and a letter read by Miss Baneroff from the Sheldon-Jackson School in Sitka, Alaska, giving much information of the work being done there for the Indians. Miss Sheldon gave a well prepared paper on Korea, and the program was followed by a

JURY DECREE WIDOW CANINE A HEART BALM

Canton, O., Feb. 19.—The jury in the $50,000 breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Ella Canine, of Indianapolis, against R. R. Jacob, wealthy Pittsburgh and Waynesburg (Ohio) business man last night awarded Mrs. Canine a verdict of $10,500. He is said to have called her his "Little Hoosier."

The suit went to the jury at 4 o'clock last evening after an all-afternoon argument by attorneys for both sides.

The jury was instructed not to consider whether or not a common law marriage had been entered into when considering the verdict.

Judge W. P. Stephenson entered into the grilling of Mrs. Canine and questioned the widow deeply concerning her declaration that she is the common law wife of Jacob.

Mrs. Canine told the Court in answer to a question that she considered herself the common law wife of Jacob before she went to Pittsburgh and occupied an apartment with him there.

"Were there any reconditions to this common law marriage?" Judge Stephenson asked.

"Only that there should be a formal ceremony as soon as he settled with his children and disposed of some other entanglements," she answered.

"If Jacob should die now would you claim a share in his estate as his common law widow," he asked her. She answered that she would not.

The speaking numbers will be interspersed with music by the orchestra and no pains are to be spared to make the event enjoyable in every respect.

The occasion is expressive of a sincere desire on the part of the management of the Security Municipal Bond Co. to know better and to draw closer to Licking county's business and professional men.

It is understood that a number of Zanesville's business men, including several members of the newspaper fraternity and bankers interested in the Security Municipal Bond Co., will attend the banquet.

This company is one of Newark's newest business enterprises and has entered our city's business circles to remain permanently.

The company is backed by large capital and its business and affairs are managed by careful and conservative business men and bankers, and although it has been established in Licking county for approximately one year only, yet under the capable and efficient direction of Mr. Pigg who has exclusive management of its affairs in Licking county, it has already developed a large and rapidly growing municipal bond business in this city and county.

Mr. Pigg and his company are to be congratulated upon the generous method they have adopted to bring themselves in closer touch with Newark's men of affairs.

HEROIC WORK OF EMPLOYEES SAVED CHEMICAL PLANT

(Associated Press Telegram)

Bristol, Tenn., Va., Feb. 19.—Explosion of a lantern early today at the plant of the Federal Dye stuff & Chemical Company, near Kingsport, Tenn., set fire to a chemical tank, which threatened several buildings with destruction. Heroic work by employees prevented the flames from spreading, and officials say only one of the buildings was damaged.

First reports were that the entire plant, valued at several millions, had been destroyed. The company, which manufactures picric acid, a base for high explosives, is a Delaware corporation, headed by A. B. du Pont.

No estimate of the damage has yet been made, but it was not sufficient, it is said, to interfere with the work.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Plainfield, N. J., Feb. 19.—The plant of the Middlesex Aniline Chemical company, said to be a German-owned concern and one of the few plants manufacturing aniline dyes in this country was destroyed by an explosion and fire today.

Two men, the only persons in the plant at the time, were seriously injured. The explosion was caused it was said by acid running together in the mixing vats. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

NEW PROHIBITION POINT INTERESTS "WETS" AND "DRYS"

E. C. BRANDENBURG, PRES., EDWIN C. DINWIDDIE, NAT'L LEGIO- U.S. SENATOR SHEPPARD WASHINGTON BOARD OF TRADE LATIVE SUPT. ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE AUTHOR, PROHIBITION BILL PRINCIPALS IN WASHINGTON PROHIBITION FIGHT

A new point of far reaching importance to temperance legislation the country over has just been brought out in the fight to enforce absolute prohibition in the District of Columbia. It is claiming the interest of both friends and foes of the bill. By reason of it, the Sheppard prohibition bill, already favorably reported to the Senate, is being held up until the point can be cleared up.

Discovery has been made that the bill—water-tight or rather "alcohol proof," as its friends characterize it—strikes at one of the few large manufacturing companies of Washington. The concern, a baking company, makes its own yeast and utilizes waste by making, as a by-product, alcohol for use in the arts.

A federal statute will not permit the company to destroy the "mash" incident to yeast-making lest it be surreptitiously used for making liquor. The prohibition bill, as reported, will not let the company use the mash to make alcohol, so the officers say they are "between the devil and the deep blue sea" and don't know what to do.

Washington business organizations, aroused over the situation, say they do not know but that other local industries may be similarly affected. Other cities more given to industrial development would undoubtedly be more directly affected than Washington, which is not a manufacturing center. The Washington Board of Trade has, however, passed resolutions against the bill.

The owners of the factory declare that a gallon of the alcohol they make from the yeast waste goes into the manufacture of intoxicating liquor and that the most scrupulous safeguards are adopted to prevent any by-product commercial utilization of the by-product. The industry employs more than two hundred workmen, many of whom, the company declares, will be dismissed if the prohibition bill goes through as it now stands.

Those for and those against prohibition regard the new development as of important national significance since industries in different parts of the country may be affected by a similar prohibition law. The Sheppard bill is, therefore, regarded as a test case and as a guide to national prohibition legislation.

CONGRESSMEN GIVE OVATION TO ASHBROOK

WHO ASKED PERMISSION TO AT-TEND FATHER'S 62ND BIRTH-DAY ANNIVERSARY.

Unanimously Granted Five Days'
Leave of Absence for This Filial Duty.

A Washington dispatch published in Saturday's Cincinnati Enquirer
says:

"Today's biggest ovation in congress was given to William Ashbrook whose ears must have tingled, even though he was far away. Many excuses have been given in requests
for leaves of absence from congress,
but when Representative William A.
Ashbrook of Ohio, bobbed up today
with a request to be excused five days in order that he might attend
the celebration of the ninety-second birthday anniversary of his father,
William Ashbrook, at Lansing, Mich.,
next Saturday, the house paid a compliment to the elder Ashbrook by an outburst of applause seldom heard in the halls of congress. The request was unanimously granted."

Washington dispatches early in the week put Congressman Ashbrook in the limelight because of his refusal to "sauce pork" for the members of congress. The Washington Post says
in part:

Representative William A. Ash-brook, of Ohio, who is chairman of a subcommittee of the house committee on public buildings and grounds,
succeeded in getting himself "in Dutch" with a large number of his colleagues yesterday. He announced, with a degree of obduracy that suggested finality, that he will decline to call his subcommittee together to participate in the distribution,
as he designated it, of "pork."

Mr. Ashbrook's subcommittee has jurisdiction over proposed public buildings in eleven states—Ohio, Arizona, Arkansas, Illinois, Louisiana, Maine, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oklahoma and Wisconsin.

There are four other subcommittees of the main committee. They are all busy, it is said, preparing legislation for buildings in the sections
under their respective jurisdiction.
But even with that example, Mr. Ash-brook refuses to budge.

The Ohio member took a stand in the public buildings and grounds committee against any public buildings appropriations at this session.
It was time to economize, he said.
He waged a losing fight. Now he declares he stood for a principle, and that he is standing for the same principle now in opposing every move looking to a drain of this character upon the treasury.

The other members favor public buildings legislation at this session,
but the question arises whether any one of them can call a meeting of the subcommittee when the chairman declines to do so. Meanwhile,
a great deal of "pork" is in jeopardy.

MIAMI LOSES TO DENISON SQUAD BY SCORE OF 33-24

Granville, Feb. 19.—Denison and Miami basketballers played a wonderful game here last night, but the Denison team was better than the Miami end, hence Denison took the game, 33 to 24. At half time the score was 13 all. Seventeen personal fouls were called during the melee
nine on Denison and eight on Miami.
The other seven fouls called were
of a technical nature.

M. Coulter, of Miami, along with some tally contributions by Minnich,
one of which was from past mid-floor, held the down-staters even with Denison in the first half. Sexton tossed a midfloor basket as time was called at the midway. Jenkins and Long scored Denison's points.
Thiele and Ladd started Denison
with fielders in the second half.

With Thiele hitting the cage consistently, Denison held a safe lead through the second half. A quarter length of the floor slide by Jenkins
on his floating rib was a feature.
Score:

Denison 33. Miami 24.
Lang, Wilson, R. .... Ross, R.
Jenkins, R. .... Minnich, R.
Thiele, C. .... H. Coulter, Sexton, C.

out of 5. Referee—Mr. Hamilton,

utes.

MT. VERNON HIGH DEFEATS A SQUAD FROM ZANESVILLE

Mt. Vernon, Feb. 19.—Mt. Vernon high school basketball team had little trouble in defeating Zanesville
last night by the score of 47 to 29. Zanesville played in good form in the first half, the score being 16 to 12 in favor of the visitors.
But in the second half Zanesville was outclassed and the locals had little trouble in winning.

NEWARK WALLOPS DELAWARE HIGH IN BASKETBALL

Delaware high school's crack basketball squad went down in defeat
last night before the Newark quarter-by a score of 51 to 34 in one of the most brilliant games ever played by the Newark boys. It appeared to be a contest of endurance in which the Newark athletes showed best Newark's substantial lead was secured in the latter part of the last half, the score being too close for comfort
during the first thirty minutes of play.

This game brought out two new stars, "Pat" Simms, whose chief contribution in playing basketball is the time consumed in reaching to the floor for the ball, surprised his friends and it last night's performance is any indication of his future work on the basketball floor, he will establish for himself a place in the hall of fame.

McLaughlin was another individual who showed strong, not necessarily as a scorer of points, but more particularly for his defensive work
and his courage in mixing in the roughness which marked the Friday night contest. The roughness was not of the dirty sort but was the result of the spirit with which the players worked throughout the game.
In the first half the teams played evenly. When time was called for the rest period, Newark showed 14 points to Delaware's 12.

The second half was not advanced
more than a minute when Delaware
led the score.
The teams alternated in taking the lead until half of the second period
had passed when Newark had a lead
of two points, the score standing 24-22.

Then Newark began to forge ahead. Two field goals gave Newark a lead of four points before Delaware caged a basket. The local boys continued to score two points to one through the remainder of the period until the game was ended with the score 51-34.

At the request of the Delaware
contingent the last period was curtailed to allow the visitors time to watch a train.

The showing of the Newark squad
was considerable of a surprise to the crowd. It was more than the usual difference counted on by being on their home court. After the first few minutes of play, Newark's guarding was greatly superior to that of Delaware's and at times the system of passing was well high perfect.

Newark next Tuesday night meets West high of Columbus, which team is yet undefeated this season. This is an extra game booked as a special Washington's birthday attraction.

Last night's lineup and summary:
Newark 51. Delaware 34.

G. Mayer, C. Mayer, R. .... Perry, R.

Purdue's Athletes Expect A Victory At Northwestern

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Feb. 19.—Northwestern University's chances for a victory over Purdue's track team in their dual indoor meet at Patten Gymnasium tonight are considered slim by Evansville fans. A comparison of Northwestern's showing against Chicago last week, when the Majors won 7 1-2 to 13 2-3, and that of Purdue, which held the Chicago squad down to a lead of only 7 1-2 points is believed to indicate a top-sided defeat for Northwestern.
Purdue is expected to score heavily in the hurdles and in the mile and to take first place in nearly every other event unless there is great reversal of form by both teams.

GERMAN TROOP MOVEMENTS IN SOUTH BELGIUM

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, Holland, Feb. 18.— Via London, Feb. 19.—During the last six days great German troop movements have occurred in south and central Belgium, says a dispatch
from the frontier to the Telegraf.
Long trains with artillery and infantry were running along the railroads to the west and south and some small detachments were transported by way of Louvain, Wavren
and Gembloux to the southeast.
Louvain the dispatch adds, still is a strong point of support of German strategy, and many conference of high military officers are held here.
Thousands of telegrams from Germany have been delayed 24 to 48 hours on account of damage to land wires by the storm in Northern Holland. Many of these telegrams have recently been distributed.

NOTED SOPRANO WILL SING HERE NEXT SUMMER

ALICE NIELSEN PRIMA DONNA IS BOOKED FOR CLOSING
NIGHT

William Owen Company and Band
Are Other Features of Attractive Chautauqua Program.

Alice Nielsen, the noted soprano,
Boston and Metropolitan opera star
will sing in Newark during the Chautaqua week next summer. With a capable supporting company the prima donna is to travel over the entire circuit in a private care and her appearance is announced as the concluding feature of a highly attractive seven day program.

Another Chautauqua announcement of local interest is that the William Owen company will present "The Servant in the House." Last season
this great human interest play was

ALICE NIELSEN.

given in 120 cities, from Jacksonville, Fla., north to Chicago, by the same
group of players secured for this circuit. Band day, as usual, will be an important feature of the program.

Miss Nielsen's appearance, of course, will be THE event of Chautaqua week. Internationally famed as a soprano, and with an enviable musical following, her Chautauqua tour promises another triumph for her remarkable career.

After various successes in light
opera in America Miss Nielsen appeared in London in "The Fortune Teller," an opera created for her by Victor Herbert. Later, and in record time, she changed from a light opera favorite to a star of first magnitude
in grand opera—something that no other light opera star ever has been able to accomplish. In recent years she has starred with the Boston and Metropolitan Opera companies, and at the present time is under contract with the latter organization in New York city.

Within a few weeks further announcement will be made regarding attractions secured for the 1916 Chautaqua program.

THREE GREAT SONGSTRESSES

Of Scandinavian Birth or Descent
Have Thrilled American Audiences at Highest Incomes.

Three marvelous songstresses of Scandinavian birth or Scandinavian descent have thrilled American audiences at the highest incomes. First was Jenny Lind, next Christine Nilson, and third Alice Nielsen, who is to tour the Redpath Chautauqua circuit this summer.

Jenny Lind was practically unknown in this country when P. T. Barnum, in 1850, entered into a contract with her to appear in not more than 150 concerts within a year and half

"The Store Where Quality Counts"

FRESH FACTS FURNISHED FOR FARMERS

"Best results are obtained with an incubator holding 150 to 250 eggs
(1) pulling a ditching machine, (2)
The operation of such a machine is more definite and certain," says Prof.
F. S. Jacoby, of the Ohio College of Agriculture, in American Farming, Chicago, for February. "During the hatching season, one may reasonably expect to average 70 per cent chicks
for all the eggs put in the incubator, providing the stock is healthy and care is taken in handling the machine. Incubators are winning their way to a place on every farm because they are necessary; they do not breed lice, and they are cheap and easy to care for. Most instances of incubator failure are due to the fact that poor ventilation or uneven temperature was provided in the room where the incubator was kept."

The farmer is the man who uses
his automobile throughout the year, says American Farming. Distances are longer in the country and the farmer cannot afford to put his automobile up just because it is winter
time. Bringing products to market, and hauling back supplies are made doubly easy by the use of the motor car. Automobile dealers and makers report that the farmers as a class
are the largest buyers of automobiles
in the whole country.

The Kansas State Board of Agriculture has found that there are 70, 259 cream separators being used in Kansas. The total number of cows in the state is 961,281, according to the same report. J. C. Mohler, member of the board in American Farming, Chicago, declares that considerable of the growth of dairying in that state was due to the profitable use of cream separators. The cream and milk produced per year is now valued at more than $8,000,000.

Prof. Frank M. White, of the University of Wisconsin, states that the tractor can be put to the following

seven uses in reclaiming marsh land:
(1) pulling a ditching machine, (2)
pulling out small willows, old logs and stumps, (3) pulling a grub breaker and ordinary plow, (4) pulling a heavy roller to settle peaty
soils, (5) pulling heavy discs to pulverize the ground after breaking, (6)
pumping water during flood time periods, and (7) hauling tile. Prof.
White points out, in American Farming, Chicago, that a tractor can travel on land when it is impossible to get on it with horses and at times
even with men.

The housewife who has electricity
on the farm does not have to bother with smoke or dirt from gas or oil lamps. She uses it for lighting her home, doing her ironing, sewing, washing, sweeping, and toasting the bread for breakfast. The farmer finds the electric light safe and convenient in his barn. He uses the engine to charge his storage batteries at the same time that he is using it for other purposes. Electricity is becoming more and more necessary on the farm.—G. B. McNair, Kansas Agricultural College in American Farming, Chicago.

"The first and most important equipment for the country home is running water in the kitchen and a sink high enough, with a drainboard
at the left, so that the draining place will be convenient and the woman's back need not ache when she does her work," says Elizabeth B. Kelly, of the University of Wisconsin, in American Farming, Chicago. "The 20th century has been called the century of 'showers baths' and with running water in the house, no farm home is complete without a bath room. Every farmer who values the peace and happiness of his home will provide conveniences in it, thereby saving the strength and nerves of the housewife."

BOWSER'S NEXT OPPONENT HAS A GOOD RECORD

Advertising announcing next week's wrestling match gives Jack Jordan the place of honor on the cards with Paul Bowser, local favorite. Jordan has been cleaning up things in New York State. He hails from Rochester. His record submitted to the local man to show his qualifications for appearance on the Music Hall mat, is a lengthy one and he has apparently had a wide experience.

He has had ten years' experience in the game, has a splendid physical development and knows the "ins and outs" of the sport.

The match will be staged Thursday night and Bowser is now endeavoring to secure some good talent for the preliminaries.

Winter Vacations And Winter Resort Life.

The doings at southern and other winter resorts take much space at this season in all journals featuring society news. The business of entertaining winter rest seekers looks like a big one from the extent of advertising done. A great deal of money is spent, though much of it comes from a class of wealthy people able to afford long journeys.

Unfortunately the winter vacation is a dream as yet unrealized by the great mass of hard working people. But it is probable that most persons can do as much in 48 weeks out of the 52, as in sticking to the job without any rest.

Railroad literature gives an enormous number of hotels and boarding houses in southern resorts that entertain company from winter latitudes. The American leisure classes and the people who can cut loose at will for play times are fast growing as wealth increases.

The life at these southern resorts is ideal for health and pleasure, preferable in some respects to that at the populous summer capitals. At the latter people often spend their time in picture shows and dancing halls. The real nature and out-door life that a vacation is supposed to exist for is neglected. At the winter resorts the occupations are golf, tennis, riding, bathing, and all the real open air pastimes.

Every one who quits his task for such pleasures must regret that they are barred to the great mass of people in the stuffy offices and shops of a northern winter. But the vacation habit seems to demoralize the complicated and artificial mechanism of modern industry. Railroad travel is costly. The traveler is taxed by hirelings at every turn. Perhaps at some future period, when life is simpler and less fiercely competitive, there will be more leisure and more frequent outings for all workers.

The lack of interest in Washington's birthday may be deplored, but no one has to lock up his gate in the cellar to save its being carried off.

The fact that a man can't afford to sign a worthy subscription for charity for $5.00 doesn't prove that you won't find him at the automobile show pricing $1500 cars.

Vice President Marshall says he is willing to run for vice president again. This will relieve the minds of other statesmen who were worrying lest they might be nominated.

The youngsters' idea of a really useful Civil Welfare Conference is a gathering of mother, grandmother, and maiden aunt in the kitchen to plan for a batch of mince pies.

It is believed that the young people will piously observe Lent by closing up their dances as early as 2 a.m.

After paying an extra price to get a seat close to the stage at the theatre, most men proceed to engage a back pew at church.

Daily History Class—Feb. 19.

1808—Bonaparte's famous Milan decree placing an embargo on English trade was laid before the United States congress.

1913—The deposed president and vice president of Mexico, Madero and Suarez, killed while under prison guard by unknown assassins.

1915—Great Britain declared that the American ship Wilhelmus would be sent to a prize court; also upheld the use of neutral flags on shipping. Italian mobs demanded from parliament intervention on the side of the allies.

Evening stars: Mars, Saturn, Jupiter, Venus. The Square of Pegasus rests converse on the horizon, north-north-west, about 8 p.m.

The school boys will shortly be responding to the demand that they be trained for marksmanship, by playing marbles for keeps in the back yard.

The time has come once more when the dancers can do a waltz in a graceful, refined and elegant manner, without being accused of back woods rusticity.

Germany has been looking for a form of words on the Lusitania matter that shall penitently admit that they were wrong and strenuously assert that they were right.

It will be a great personal sacrifice for the politicians to attend the national conventions, but of course they feel under obligations to go and give the country the benefit of their superior wisdom.

The indignation felt by the militia organizations at the idea of control by the national government has been resolutely suppressed as far as the matter of receiving federal pay is concerned.

The season has come when the majority of people have to learn the time when the sun rises by hearsay testimony.

The down-trodden farmers of Kansas, who are so pitifully squeezed by the grain speculators, spent $37,000,000 for automobiles last year.

The fact that a man knows the dates of the baseball schedule does not prove that he can tell when the political conventions will be held in his district.

Government ownership of railroads is steadily growing more popular, as congress could always be depended on to borrow money and make up the deficit.

That proposed regiment of red-headed men would spread terror among the enemy provided they can get some one to agree to take the job of commanding officer.

The Steel Trust must hope that the government will split their corporation up into 34 little companies, so they can put up their prices like gasoline.

The national holidays being a time that should be used for serious reflection, many men will spend Washington's birthday in thinking how they can get more business during the month of March.

The merchant tailors recently gathered in convention said it costs a man $2060 to dress fashionably for a year. Some men would want to be paid about $2060 for wearing the fashionable clothes.

Misleading Figures.

(Philadelphia Record.) Census Bureau estimates of the population of the United States, which gave it as likely to be 102,917,202 on July 1 next, should be taken for what they really are—mere guesses, which have no statistical value. Anyone can work the matter out for himself by finding the rate of increase or decrease between the censuses taken in 1900 and 1910 and then applying the same rate to the years of the decade from 1910 to 1920. The results are generally a rough approximation to the actual figures, but frequently there may be serious errors. For instance, during the decennial period from 1900 to 1910 Iowa showed a small loss of population, due to heavy emigration to Canada and our own Northwestern States. Under the Government system this loss would be estimated as continuing from 1910 to the present day, but this decrease is not at all likely. The rush of farmers to Canada has stopped, and Iowa is now probably gaining in population.

Again no allowance is made for the check upon immigration imposed by the great European war, and the great exodus of aliens caused by that event and the consequent business depression here. During the Government's last fiscal year there was practically no gain in population through immigration, and there the certainly will be none this year. The rate of increase from this factor from 1900 to 1910 cannot therefore be correctly applied to the population of the present decade. Add to this decrease the loss through the return of many thousands of aliens to their old homes, and the percentage of growth is very materially lowered.

Such miscalculations are of importance only because they are too often taken as the basis for computing the mortality rate of cities, towns and States. Where the premise is wrong the conclusions are certain to be inaccurate. It would be just as well if the Government did not give out these guesses. They serve no valuable purpose, and when the correct figures are obtained by the decennial censuses they involve the revision of statistics which are shown to have been seriously misleading.

"Publicity, Wages Of Sin."

(New York Tribune.)

Newspaper ethics was discussed yesterday morning at the public forum at the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal church by Dr. James Melvin Lee, director of the department of journalism of New York University.

"We may not like the use of display head lines in the newspaper," said Dr. Lee, "but we are not in a position to say that the papers that use them are not accomplishing as much good as the conservative papers. Ethics with persons, as with men, is largely a personal matter. The newspaper should have the instincts of the gentleman. Gentlemen are not exempt from wrong-doing, but they are always ready to make amends when they discover that they have done wrong. One sermon is preached by the paper every day, and the sermon has as its text 'The Wages of Sin is Publicity'."

One great advance in newspaper ethics had been made in the advertising department, said Dr. Lee. Papers refused to publish fraudulent advertising now, and some papers even refused to print liquor advertisements, he said.

He told a story of a Chicago editor, who, upon receiving the details of the misdeeds of a prominent local clergyman, decided not to publish the account and cause a sensation if he could persuade the clergyman to retire quietly to a farm and stay out of the pulpit. To this the clergyman agreed, and he was now living in rural retirement, Dr. Lee said.

A great problem facing the editors Dr. Lee declared, was whether to publish what the people wanted or what they ought to have. Most papers, he said, did both.

Pointed Observations

It is an exceptional statesman who does not feel it incumbent upon him to develop a new interpretation of the Monroe doctrine.—Washington Star.

It is declared that in his speech before the New York convention, Elihu Root has sounded the keynote of the national campaign. It is always Mr. Root's fate to sound the keynote and then everybody follows the band and leaves him there.—Grand Rapids Press.

The peace advertising campaign that Mr. Ford is going to conduct in the newspapers will doubtless be a big affair and will cost lots of money, which he is well able to pay. But Mr. Ford is hardly able to pay for all the advertising the newspapers have given him up to this time.—Houston Post.

Judicial Oddity.

A Philadelphia shoemaker was fined $10 for mending his own shoes on Sunday. But anyone can ride on trolley cars in New York on Sunday; waiters in hotels may work; musicians give "sacred concerts"; the milkman makes his daily round; and the very policeman who arrested the luckless cobbler was policing his beat in order to get more money for shoes. Again, we repeat, the law is an ass.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Safety First in England.

The Fall Of Erzerum.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

If the reports of the Russian victory at Erzerum are borne out, it means a notable repulse to the Central Powers as well as a confirmation of the opinion of those who doubted that Grand Duke Nicholas was really shelved when he was relieved of his command of the armies in Russia last fall. The accounts generally agree that the Turks have been badly beaten in their greatest stronghold. With part of their army captured and the remainder fleeing, Turkish resistance to the progress of the Russians must be considered as largely eliminated. The defense of Erzerum was entrusted to Field Marshal von de Goltz, but it is evident the reinforcements the German commander had been expected to send to the hard-pressed defenders of the important fortress failed to arrive.

Of the utmost strategic importance, Erzerum forms a base from which the Russian Grand Duke can operate toward Constantinople and the realization of the Russian aim of ending German dominance of the Porte. It is in the northern region, through Trebizond and along the Black Sea, he may be expected to attempt his advance, rather than seeking to relieve the British in Mesopotamia, although the setback of the Turks at Erzerum would naturally tend to the advantage of the none too happy British positions at Kut-el-Amara.

This is not the first time the fortress situated on a plain 6000 feet above the sea has been held by the soldiers of the Czar. It figured in the wars of 1828-29 and 1877-78. Its military importance has long been recognized and it has been strengthened accordingly. It has taken fighting covering some three months to subdue it, counting the engagements before the Turks tied to it for protection. It was a case of old enemies meeting again and, it may be supposed, great numbers brought by Nicholas over a long distance counted for much and close range fighting was the order to a greater degree than has been the case in other war zones. In their own territory earlier in the war the Grand Duke and his armies made a rapid advance and an equally rapid retirement. The present campaign, however, is not likely to be a repetition of that one.

Wasn't Calling Her Dear.

Desirous of buying a camera, a certain fair young woman inspected the stock of a local shopkeeper.

"Is this a good one?" she asked, as she picked up a dainty little machine. "What is it called?"

A Literary Coincidence.

"My father, W. Clark Russell," said Herbert Russell in telling of a literary coincidence, "had finished maturing the plot of his novel, 'The Death Ship,' which is a version of the legend of Vanderdecken. I was his amanuensis at the time. He said to me, 'Tomorrow we will begin the story.' On the following morning when I entered his study to take his dictation of the opening lines he showed me a letter he had just received. It was from W. S. Gilbert, the well known dramatist, asking him why he did not write a novel about the Flying Dutchman."

Can any reader inform a distressed citizen of Illinois where Henpeck, O., is located? The department of state at Columbus regrets that its records fail to disclose a place named Henpeck. Human Sacrifices.

In battle the Aztecs strove to save life so that they could use their prisoners as human sacrifices to the gods. They had the art of ambush reduced to such a science that it was nothing unusual for them to bring home 25,000 prisoners after a campaign. Their battles were not fought for the sake of any principle, nor yet to gain territory. They fought in order to capture prisoners, and the hot headed young soldiers were given wooden swords, for fear they might in the heat of battle unwittingly slay a foe. A dead enemy was already dead, and hence of no value for sacrificial purposes. Were the Aztecs humans? Well, not so that you could notice. But their destruction of prisoners on the altars of their beautiful temples was done in the name of religion and hence not reprehensible.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Animal and Plant Life In Brine.

Just west of Promontory Point station, Utah, is a pond cut off from the Great Salt lake by the railroad embankment. At times of high water in the lake this reservoir fills by percolation through the embankment, but during the summer this water is concentrated to a brine by evaporation. The deep pink color of the brine is a phenomenon that appears in salt ponds generally when a certain concentration is reached. In the salt ponds of San Francisco bay this color is due to a certain bacillus which lives in saturated brines and also in the heaps of salt as it is piled for drainage and shipment. Prohibitive to life as such an environment might be considered, strong natural brines are, in fact, inhabited by a number of minute organisms, animals as well as plants. The pink color disappears in winter or when fresh water is introduced into the pond.—United States Geological Survey.

Rippling Rhymes

My Neighbor.

I love my neighbor as myself, and wish him peace and pie and pelf. Yet human nature's strong in me, and when I look across and see my neighbor rending clothes and hair, and sorer than a poisoned bear, because hard luck has swatted him a grievous jolt right in the glim, I do not feel one-half as bad as it that luck myself I had. In fact—it's painful to relate—I rather like to contemplate my neighbor when he's in despair, and biting chunks out of the air. But when he toddles to my place, I pull a sympathetic face, and tell him how my bosom bleeds, give him the solace that he needs, and send him home ward with a smile; you see, my heart is full of guile. It's just a common, garden smart, responding more to private smart, than to the painful stings and pricks which may afflict the other hicks. My trifling boil will gall me more than big carbuncles three or four which may adorn my neighbor's neck, and make his life a grewsome wreck. It is a sad thing to confess; and yet we're much alike, I guess.

Formosa's Umbrella Snake.

Venomous snakes take the place of wild beasts in Formosa, and their attacks are formidable, says a Japanese traveler, who has just returned from a trip in the southern island. There is a venomous snake on that island by the name of amagashichi, so called from its umbrella-like head. This snake is generally found in watery places, often in a ditch flowing out of a kitchen. A maid working in a kitchen is not infrequently startled at the nimble movement of its tongue. A slight touch of its fangs is fatal. A native of the island was bitten by the snake in the thumb. A doctor who treated the wound made a simple application. The man returned home, thinking the wound would soon be cured, but to his consternation his arm had swollen up. He soon lost sight and hearing. Next morning he was dead.—East and West News.

What Ohio Club Women Are Doing

Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, Director of Press.

Mrs. Lewis C. Laylin, General Federation Secretary for Ohio, has been active in the work of the State Federation for the past fifteen years. During that time she was President of Olla Podrida, one of the largest clubs in Columbus, for two years. She was also President of the city Federation of Clubs for two years. During her administration the playground work of the City Federation was brought to its present state of efficiency and placed under municipal control. Also the welfare work was started whereby loan scholarships are given to deserving girls which is still being carried on by the Federation.

She is a member of Sorosis, a purely literary club, and has done a great deal of dramatic work in this club. She has been a member of the State Legislative Committee and also Chairman of the State Committee of Industrial and Social Conditions.

Mrs. Laylin has been actively identified with the work of the Daughters of the American Revolution, having held the office of historian and been Regent of the Columbus Chapter for three years. She is at present State Chairman of the Committee on Welfare of Women and Children. She has represented this organization for several years at their Congress held annually in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Laylin was a delegate to the Bi-ennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held at Cincinnati and a delegate-at-large from the State to the San Francisco Bi-ennial, and will be a delegate ex-officio to the Bi-ennial in New York City in May.

Baby Week.

The Care of the Baby is the First and Noblest Duty of a Mother.

Now is the time for the clubs to arouse the entire community to the practical study of the best means of preserving and developing child life. Let us promote the health of our community by teaching parents how to keep their babies well.

1. Advertise Baby Week through the newspapers and by slides in your motion picture theaters.

2. Sunday, the first day of the week, ask the ministers of all denominations to preach a sermon on child-welfare.

3. Exhibit in store windows a collection of model articles for use in the care of the baby—viz.: proper clothing, feeding, sleeping and bathing arrangements. Also, exhibit objects which are injurious to the baby such as pacifiers, long tubed nursing bottles, etc.

4. Short lectures on the care of the baby and on child welfare work may be given by your resident district nurse and doctors, illustrated by lantern slides—The Children's Bureau, of Washington, D. C., on request, will give information regarding available motion pictures and slides.

5. Write the State Board of

DAME NATURE HINTS.

When the Food Is Not Suited.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is apt to be with the food. The old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once.

To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says: "For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried various kinds of breakfast food, but they were all soft, starchy messes which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterward."

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice."

"The change it worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I don't have headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way."

"Grape-Nuts makes a delicious as well as a nutritious dish; and I find that Postum agrees perfectly—never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

"There's a reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Health, Columbus, for lecturers on "Child Welfare."

A Baby Week campaign should not be a temporary flurry and excitement. Definite efforts should be made by follow-up work to have it lead to permanent good for the babies of the community.

Child Labor Bill.

The Keating-Owen Federation Child Labor Bill is now in the Senate before the Committee on Interstate Commerce. Our Senator, Atlee Pomeroy, is a member of that Committee. Let every club in Ohio telegraph or send special delivery letter to him urging him to support this important measure.

General Federation Influence.

It will be of interest to all club women that through the influence of the General Federation of Women's Clubs ten young women are to be sent each year by the Chinese Government to receive the advantages of the American Colleges.

A portion of the indemnity fund paid the U. S. after the Boxer uprising, and what our government returned, has ever since been set aside to send a number of young men each year to our Universities.

At the request of the General Federation that young women be given the opportunity—a competitive examination was held to determine the ten best students. It is equally gratifying to know that all successful candidates were from American Missionary Schools.

Our General Federation Secretary, Mrs. Lewis C. Laylin, General Federation Secretary of the O. F. W. C. promises some interesting items bearing upon the Bi-ennial in the near future. It is necessary that clubs appoint their delegates at an early date. It is earnestly desired that every club in the Gen. Fed. be represented.

Club Echoes.

The College Woman's Club of Oxford gave a supper party February 3rd. Each member came dressed as a suffragist or an anti and was expected to give a convincing reason for her belief.

This club has made over one hundred dollars for the State Institution for the Blind by selling the work of the inmates. It joined the National Child Labor Committee at the last meeting, an open one, when the club discussed Child Welfare.

The Review Club of Springfield is meeting its responsibilities in its Civic, Philanthropic and Educational activities.

The Norwood Education Society reports work along altruistic lines—Through their efforts many hearts were filled with Christmas cheer.

Plans for Convention.

Dayton has begun her preparations to entertain the Ohio F. W. C. next October. A Meeting of all the Presidents in the City Federation met and elected a Central Committee with—

Mrs. Chas. H. Kumler, General Chairman, Mrs. F. G. Cromer, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. C. C. McLean, Recording Secretary, Mrs. A. H. Reeder, Cor. Sec'y, and Mrs. E. B. Lyon, Treasurer. Two additional members of the committee, Mrs. Helen Hammond and Miss Edith Culver were chosen whose duty it shall be to choose the various committees.

Mrs. Kumler is a familiar personality in the Ohio Federation and holds a warm place in the hearts of the club women. She was the charming toast-mistress at the Fed. banquet last October in Toledo.

The growing interest in the active club life throughout the State promises still increased members in attendance over any previous convention. Dayton's wonderful courage and civic spirit following the great flood has made that city famous throughout the entire country. Plan now for Dayton.

Another Busy Club.

The Althruian Club of Troy justifies its name and is one of many clubs in Ohio proving that a self-culture club can also be a factor in the community life. The Althruian members must indeed be busy women holding weekly meetings, with plays and musical afternoons—finding time for fine civic work and among other activities they sold 20,000 Red Cross seals during the holidays.

The first farm paper was printed in England in 1681 and dignified itself with the title Collection of Letters for the Improvement of Husbandry and Trade.

A "Washington" banquet was given by the members of the Wednesday Thimble club on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Clifford Frye in North Fourth street. Tiny cherry baskets were given as favors, and a delicious menu was served.

The rooms of the Frye home were prettily arranged with the national colors and the hours were devoted to games, the souvenirs being awarded to Mrs. Mortz Ankele, Mrs. David Kingery and Messrs. James Johnson and David Kingery.

The banquet was served by Misses Geneva Frye and Catherine Rodgers, who were gowned in Martha Washington costumes.

The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frye and Miss Mame Heipley.

One of the enjoyable events of the week was a Valentine party given by Zane Frye at her home in Lawrence street, it being the anniversary of her birth. About twenty of the Y. W. C. A. girls who braved the "rainings" terrors of camp last summer, gathered around an improvised camp fire and sang camp songs and made the building ring with Kill Kare yells and cheers. After an evening of games, songs and reminiscences, the girls were called to the dining room where they found tables looking very much like camp—even to the bouquets. Roasted "wienie" sandwiches, pickles, doughnuts and coffee reminded of the jolly spreads around the real camp fire last summer.

Mrs. J. W. Albright entertained the members of the Opportunity club at her home in Maple avenue,

Thursday evening. The hours were devoted to crocheting, music, recitations and a basket contest. Mrs. J. W. Mercer receiving first prize, and Mrs. Samuel McNeely second. Mrs. William Lisey was awarded the gold medal.

The regular monthly meeting of the Licking County Equal Suffrage League was held in Taylor Hall on Friday afternoon, when an interesting address was delivered by Mr. W. E. Hopkins, of the Associated Charities, and the annual election of officers was held.

Mrs. E. S. Randolph was made honorary president of the league.

The election resulted as follows: President—Mrs. E. E. Moore.

First Vice President—Mrs. H. W. Howe of Granville.

Second Vice President—Mrs. Henry Fleck.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Atta Griffith.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Florence Beckel.

Treasurer—Miss Grace Williams.

Following the business of the meeting, Mr. W. E. Hopkins gave his talk on "Community Housekeeping." In order to refute the argument so often advanced by anti-suffragists that the ballot would take away a woman's interest from her home, the speaker dwelt at length on how it would improve the conditions in the home and would aid in home building. The talk proved very interesting, and Mr. Hopkins ably discussed the topic, presenting many new phases of the question.

The following invitations have been issued:

The Women's Music club met in regular session on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the president, Mrs. W. W. Davis, and a very delightful session was held. The study of the afternoon was musical form and was most ably handled by Mrs. J. R. Fitzgibbon, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Dotey.

The following program was rendered: Prelude and Fugue, Bach; Miss Sabina Iversberg; Dance, Porus (illustrated), Chopin; Miss Eleanor Johnson.

Musical Newark is looking forward with much pleasure to the "song recital" which will be given by the Silent Circle of The King's Daughters next Wednesday evening, at 8:15 o'clock, at the Plymouth Congregational church. Miss Marguerite Virginia Hall of Wheeling, W. Va., who always charms her audience with her sweet voice and wonderful personality as well as her artistic singing is the soloist of the evening. She has selected her program with a view to pleasing all. She will sing several airs, then the remainder of her program will be ballads and she will sing several request numbers. Not one criticism was heard last year but all who heard her were of the opinion that this young singer compared with the older artists of today. Miss Hall comes from a race of musicians, and inherits her ability to sing and naturally sings from the heart and like all who possess the divine spark, sings with ease and control and along with her God-given voice she has the added cultivation.

Y W C A NOTES

Again we say in one breath we welcome the new officers of the Board of Directors and regret the loss of those who have served so faithfully. Mrs. Jones, Mrs. W. C. Miller and Mrs. A. S. Mitchell were re-elected. Mrs. Eugene Ball succeeds Mrs. Frank Johnson as recording secretary. Mrs. John Tucker succeeds Mrs. Ball as Corresponding Secretary and Mrs. C. C. Metz succeeds Mrs. George Schmitt as Treasurer. Mrs. Miller was appointed chairman of Finance Committee to take Mrs. W. H. Davis' place and Mrs. Frank Johnson will assume her duties as chairman of the Membership Committee. The House Committee is without a chairman. Mr. J. A. Mitchell, who has carried this big responsibility for the three years, has resigned, and it will take time to find one who can fill this vacancy.

Miss Harrison, Field Secretary, spent the week-end with us, speaking Sunday afternoon at Vesper Service for the younger girls. Miss Harrison brought with her much of the joyousness of the jubilee spirit that is spreading from our Association to another, and at a meeting for Board members Monday evening at Mrs. Jones' home, urged the Newark Association to accept the challenge of the future: "I obey its summons to a great advance in the light of untouchable resources in Jesus Christ."

What a transformation would take place in Newark, if every Board and Committee member and every member of the Association would accept this challenge.

It means much to our Association to have occasional visits from our Field Secretaries, for they bring to Board Members and employed officers alike new inspiration and strength; they bring the experiences of our fellow workers in other parts of the field, thus binding us all together and uniting the work.

The Vesper service Sunday, Feb. 20th, will be led by Mrs. Grant Jones and the subject will be "Our Privilege" meaning "The Other Girl," the girls in foreign lands and the foreign girls in our own land. Mrs. Jones always has a message for those who hear her.

Miss Katie McFarland will sing, and some other members of the Jolly Workers Club will usher and act as hostesses for the Y. W. C. A. Misses Nell Jones and Helen Nichols will have charge of the music. A fine program will be given and a special invitation is extended to the members of the Board, Committee members and all Association members. If we do not attend the Vesper services ourselves, how can we urge others to take advantage of the opportunity to hear people who are worth hearing, some even coming from a distance to us. The service will be held in Central Church of Christ at 3 p. m.

The Thursday morning Gym. class, though small in number, is as full of enthusiasm as some of the larger classes. Better Join. We assure you a good time that will limber up your muscles and joints and chase away the wrinkles.

Don't forget the Millinery Class on Monday night's 7:30. Come and get started before the class gets too large. Membership in the Association is all that is required. You'll like Miss Asbach too.

We congratulate our Big Brother, The Y. M. C. A., in securing the State Convention to be held here next week. We know what a great source of inspiration such a gathering of splendid workers will mean to the local Association and the whole community. We hope every rich blessing shall come from it.

Dr. Essington's first lecture on First Aid, given under Physical Department, was fine, and he will give the second one Friday night, Feb. 25th, unless his professional duties prevent. Watch for the announcement. All girls and women invited.

Miss Isabelle Bishop of Locust street is the proud possessor of the first Helen Gould Bible to be presented to a Y. W. C. A. member in Newark by Mrs. Finely Shepard. Mrs. Bishop memorized and recited in two sittings the 520 Scripture verses selected by Mrs. Shepard.

Y M C A NOTES

The State Convention is now claiming the best attention of the Association. We expect from 150 to 200 registered delegates from out of town. These will be leading business men of the cities which they represent. They come to our city at their own expense to take part in the deliberations of this convention which has for its theme "The Ohio Boy." Delegates have already registered from Cleveland, Springfield, Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus and Piqua.

There is a little danger that the hotels of the city will not be able to care for the visitors on Wednesday night. Any people of the city who wish to entertain any of these delegates should notify the Association of their ability to do so. Each man pays his way. The Association is not asking persons to furnish rooms for these men without pay. They will all go to the hotels providing the hotels will hold them.

The program for Wednesday is as follows: (In brief) Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 23rd, 2:30, opening exercises.

2:40, Temporary organization.
2:45, Devotionals, Percy B. Williams, Toledo.
3:15, Permanent organization.
3:30, Report of commission number one.
6:00 Banquet in the K. of P. Hall, 7:50, Address, Harry Walther, Canton.
8:00, Address, Kenneth Kurtz, Dayton.
8:10, Address, William Hennessy, Cleveland.
8:30, Music.
8:40, Address C. C. Robinson, New York City.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the First Presbyterian church. The singing of the convention will be led by the Rev. Don D. Tullis of the Second Presbyterian church. Miss Janie Sells will be pianist.

Dr. A. L. Wahn, who has been a member of our business men's Gymnasium class for several years has moved to Akron. He has remembered us with a card giving his Akron address.

The basket ball team met in the Banquet room on the third floor on Wednesday evening and enjoyed a lunch together after which they had their regular practice in the gym. Richard Stevens was elected manager of the team and Royal Keyes, Captain. They have prospective games arranged with Mt. Vernon, Coshocton, Zanesville and Athens.

A team of intermediates from Granville will play a picked team from the intermediate class here Saturday evening at 7:00 o'clock. No admission fee will be charged. All members and their friends are invited.

SOLVE PROBLEM OF SHIPPING FRUITS FROM NORTHWEST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 19. — The problems affecting the profitable growing and marketing of fruit in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana, virtually have been solved, according to government experts today, who assisted in the formation here yesterday of the Fruit Growers' association. The agency was effected as a result of the conferences between fruit growers' representatives of practically every selling organization in the northwest, and experts from the United States department of agriculture.

An official statement given out today describes the association as a "combined organization of fruit growers and selling agencies, governed by a board of control, divided equally between the producers and marketers."

"It is the safety first branch of the fruit industry," the statement continues, "involving the growers' protection, assures an orderly control of up to 75 per cent of the fruit tonnage of the northwest, and embodies the ideals sought for years by the growers in a mutual selling system wholly displaying destructive methods."

Hawaii will be equipped with a lighthouse giving a double flash of light of 94,000-candle power every 10 seconds.

There is a shortage of matches in France, due largely to the decrease in the output of home-manufactured goods. Owing to this, France has been forced to increase greatly its imports of matchwood, etc., especially from the United States, Sweden, Italy, Switzerland, Indo-China and Japan.

Dislocated Elbow.

William Howard of Pine street, who was struck by the Criss Bros. ambulance while making a run Thursday night, was more seriously injured than was at first supposed. He suffered a dislocation of the middle finger of the left hand and a dislocated his right elbow. Dr. P. H. Cooner dressed the injury and he is now improving.

Collision Averted.

A collision between an automobile and a street car was narrowly averted at Fourth and Main streets last night when a machine turning north from Main street headed straight for a Main street car coming south on Fourth street. The driver applied his brakes, swerving his car to the west side of the street to avoid a head-on collision. His engine stopped, the machine skidded and came to a stop with less than a foot of space between the car and the automobile.

Current issue of the Bell Telephone News contains several pages of pictures of chief operators of the Bell system located at various points in the Central states. Among the pictures is that of Miss Anna Floyd of South Morris street, this city, chief operator at the local Bell exchange.

Bunker Pays Fine.

Charles Bunker, who has been confined in the city prison for nearly two weeks after being fined $250 and costs for using profane and indecent language in the presence of women, was released late Friday when his son called at the city prison and paid the balance due on his fine. Attorneys for Bunker brought habeas corpus proceedings in common pleas court but his release was not secured, the court deciding that it had not been shown that he was wrongfully deprived of his liberty.

Publicity Always Pays.

Before the recent Elk minstrel a certain business house in the city had a number of copies of the song "Mother." The song was sung in the show by Mr. Gerald Athey of Granville and met with popular favor. The next day all copies were sold and a telegraph order went in for more and they too went like "hot cakes" and a second order went in and now that is exhausted and the dealer is sending in for an unlimited supply. JANE SHACKELFORD

MOTIVE PROBABLY ROBBERY.

The police department is working on the theory that the motive of the crime was robbery. It has been common talk among the neighbors that Mrs. Shackelford and Woodfork had considerable money about the house and the fact that the little story and a half cottage was ransacked from top to bottom supports this theory.

It is also evident that the crime was committed early in the evening as both Mrs. Shackelford and Woodfork were fully clothed. The gas lights were burning.

The woman's body was found in the dining room. That of Woodfork was lying in the kitchen where his head had been beaten to a pulp with the table-leg used as a club.

WOODFORK DID CHORES.

Her husband, Jackson Shackelford, died about thirty-five years ago. Since that time, Elias Woodfork, her brother-in-law has continued to make his home with her. Elias was well known in the northern part of the city where he has been employed to do chores about the homes. He and his wheelbarrow were familiar to the residents of North Fourth street as daily he made his trips to and from work.

WEAPON IMPROVISED.

The improvised club was partly charred and it is the belief of the police that this was brought into the house by the murderer. It is also deemed probable that it was picked up in the yard. Woodfork, who operated a push cart in buying and selling rags, often brought home a cartful of wood picked up in his travels over the city and the officers have not yet determined whether the weapon was brought to the yard in this way or whether the murderer brought it with him from a greater distance.

LAST SEEN THURSDAY.

The last seen of Mrs. Shackelford probably was Thursday evening, when Mrs. Frank Ransom, at the request of Mrs. "Shackelford, accompanied her to the home of Mrs. Norman in Buckingham street, who has been seriously ill. They returned home about 8:30 o'clock. She never was seen afterwards. After she failed to visit the Ransoms home on Friday, and was not seen around the house today, Mrs. Ransom, accompanied by Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Manus, went to the home this afternoon, and made the horrible discovery.

KING OF GREECE

CONGRATULATED BY HIS DEPUTIES

Athens, Feb. 18.—(Via Paris, Feb. 19.)—The officials of the chamber of deputies during an audience with King Constantine this morning complimented the king on the fact that, acting under powers conferred upon him by the constitution he had saved the country at a most critical juncture from the horrors of war, which had overtaken other small states. They expressed the hope that he would continue to work for the preservation of the resources of the nation, so that they might be used for its best interests and thus fulfill the wishes of all those whom the Greek parliament represents. The king returned his thanks for the laudatory expressions.

NOODLE LUNCHEON SERVED BY LADIES IN SCHALLER HALL

The ladies of St. John's Evangelical church are serving a noodle luncheon in Schaller's Hall in West Main street today. They began serving at 11 o'clock this morning and will continue to do so until 8 o'clock this evening. During the day scores of people called and patronized the ladies, as the money derived is used for a worthy cause.

DID TYPEWRITER SPEEDER "BURGLE" DOCTOR'S OFFICE?

The only clue on which the police have to work, to solve the mystery of the burglary of the office of Dr. D. M. Smith, is the theory that a typist, trying for a speed record, did the job. This frees all newspaper men of suspicion. The thief stole a typewriter and a clock.

The fact that no medicines containing opiates were stolen added more mystery to the crime, as most burglaries of doctors' offices are for the purpose of stealing dope.

The once boy who is some sleuth suggests that the thief took the clock to remove the only witness to the deed as he assumes that the burglar was compelled to do his nefarious work before its face.

ENGINEER TIED SAFETY VALVE DOWN ON BOAT

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 19.—The boarding the low boat Enterprise in midstream near Gallopis, Ohio, and the alleged discovery by federal inspectors, Wm. H. Clarke, and Chas. C. Thomas that the safety valve had been tied formed a subject of discussion today among Cincinnati river men.

Engineer Charles Cox was ordered to give bond for his appearance in the United States district court. He will be prosecuted under the admiralty law it is stated. The boat was permitted to proceed and arrived in Cincinnati yesterday morning. It delivered its tow and started back for Point Pleasant, last night.

The Enterprise is owned by the Monongahela River consolidated Coal and Coke company of Pittsburgh.

WOULD MITIGATE ALLEGED EVILS OF UNEMPLOYMENT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Feb. 19.—A proposal for a commission to formulate a plan for a national insurance fund and mitigate the evil of unemployment, was introduced today by Representative London of New York, the only socialist member of the house. Five persons appointed by the president would work out details of a national insurance fund to secure to workers adequate subsistence while involuntarily unemployed whether because of lack of work, sickness, or old age, and would report the plan to the president next September.

The resolution proposes providing employment through the development and exploitation of national resources.

ARRANGING FOR TRIAL OF MEN IN EASTLAND CASE

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Preparations were begun today by the state's attorney to bring to trial the seven men indicted by the state grand jury and charged with the responsibility for the loss of more than 800 lives in the steamship Eastland disaster last July. Under the ruling of Federal Judge Sessions, yesterday at Grand Rapids, six men indicted by the Federal grand jury in Chicago, cannot be removed from the Michigan district to the Chicago Federal court.

The state indictment runs against Walter K. Greenbaum, general manager of the Indiana Transportation company, which chartered the steamship; George T. Arnold, president of the St. Joseph-Chicago Steamboat company, owners of the Eastland; Wm. H. Hull, vice president and general manager of the steamboat company; W. C. Steele, secretary-treasurer of the steamboat company; R. W. Davis, its assistant secretary-treasurer; Harry Pederson, captain, and Joseph M. Erickson, chief engineer of the boat.

It had not been decided today by C. F. Clynne, United States district attorney whether Mr. Greenbaum and Mr. Steele, both of whom have been brought to trial in the federal court here.

Receipts of the secretary of state's department for 1915 were $1,547,228, an increase of $554,537 over the record of 1914, according to a report made public today by Secretary of State Hildebrandt. The receipts came largely from incorporation fees and automobile licenses. The payroll for 1915 was $79,751, a saving of $3,521 over 1914.

The report states that during the administrations of Mr. Hildebrandt a new office system was installed in the bureau of vital statistics, resulting in a saving of $30,000 in expenses and bringing up to date reports on vital statistics which one year ago had not been completed for 1912.

"For the first six weeks of 1916," says the report, "the automobile department has issued 90,000 automobile tags, practically one-half of the total number issued during the year 1915, with 12 less employees on the job. The automobile tags are being purchased at less than ever before and at a considerably less price than is paid by 22 other states."</

LETTER SIGNED WITH NAME OF CHICAGO ANARCHIST-CHEF EXPLAINS POISONING

II

And I started right away to work. I worked till late in the night every day and I prepared the poisons but the most that a letter like later I agreed for arsenic and Prussian Chloride. I bought some more arsenic and iron's hat 60 grains Arsenious Oxide and 100 gr. H<sub>2</sub>O<sub>2</sub> and 60 gr. Prussian Chloride. Then I made 480 gr. (Mg H<sub>2</sub>N<sub>2</sub>O<sub>2</sub>) (S.P.) and very dry. This I took along when I made my escape. No one in the world has known those things before. After I had placed the poison in little quantities in different dishes which were ready for the dinner. After that I went home I took a solution of Lime, of Chlorine, water and sulphuric acid and made my hair white as snow. Two times I was overcome by the gases evolved. Then I left home with nothing but my clothes, some explosives and some poison for also a knife and a Revolver. Those explosives are very dangerous for the smallest shock causes an explosion which will have terrible results. I deny that there were any explosives in my room after I left.

Jean Cronis

It is this portion of the letter of "Jean Cronis" to the New York Times which has convinced the police and other investigators that the writer is quite possibly the Chicago anarchist-chef who put arsenic in the soup served to Archbishop Mundelein and scores of notable guests, and then fled. The writer's smattering of chemistry, his manifest Teutonic origin, the phraseology, and the remarkable confirmatory data in the letter, all tend the police say, to bear out the writer's boast that he really is Cronis, and that he will kill many persons if he is not apprehended.

REPRESENTATIVE W. A. ASHBROOK IS HONORED

Full Text of Pension Bill Which was Accepted by Committee from 19 Offered.

A signal honor was conferred upon Hon. William A. Ashbrook at Washington this week when the committee on invalid pensions unanimously selected Mr. Ashbrook's bill of the nineteen bills introduced relative to the increase of pensions of widows of soldiers and reported the measure to the House with recommendation for passage. The Ashbrook bill was selected as the most meritorious of the nineteen submitted.

Mr. Ashbrook feels confident that the bill will pass the House and he is hopeful that the Senate will promptly concur in order that the measure may become a law during this session of congress. The full text of the bill follows:

To amend an Act entitled "An Act to increase the pension of widows, minor children, and so forth, of deceased soldiers and sailors of the Civil War, the War with Mexico, the various Indian wars, and so forth, and to grant a pension to certain widows of the deceased soldiers and sailors of the late Civil War," approved April nineteenth, nineteen hundred and eight.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this Act the rate of pension for a widow who was the lawful wife of any officer or enlisted man in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States, during the period of his service in the Civil War, shall be $20 per month, and the rate of pension for a widow who has reached or shall hereafter reach the age of seventy years shall be $20 per month, and nothing herein shall be construed to affect the existing allowance of $2 per month for each child under the age of sixteen years and for each helpless child; and all Acts or parts of Acts inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed: Provided, however, That this Act shall not be construed as to reduce any pension under any Act, public or private.

Section 2. That any widow whose name was placed or shall hereafter be placed on the pension roll, under any existing law, and whose name has been or shall hereafter be dropped from said pension roll by reason of her marriage to another person who has since died, shall hereafter die or from whom she has been heretofore or shall be hereafter divorced upon her own application and without fault on her part, shall be entitled to have her name again placed on the pension roll at the rate allowed by the law or laws under which she was formerly pensioned, unless she be entitled to a greater rate of pension under the provisions of section one of this Act, such pension to commence from the date of filing her application in the Bureau of Pensions after the passage of this Act. Provided, however, That where the pension of said widow on her second or subsequent marriage has accrued to a helpless or idiotic child, or a child or children under the age of sixteen years, she shall not be entitled to renewal under this Act unless said helpless or idiotic child, or children under sixteen years of age, be then a member or members of her family and cared for by her, and upon the renewal of pension to said child or children shall cease. And provided further, That the provisions of this Act shall be extended to those widows, otherwise entitled, whose husbands died of wounds, injuries, or disease incurred during the period of their military or naval service, but who were deprived of pension under the Act of March third, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, because of their failure to draw any pension by reason of their remarriage.

Section 3. That any widow, as described in section two of the Act approved April nineteenth, nineteen hundred and eight, who married the soldier or sailor prior to June twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and five, shall have title to pension under the provisions of said section of said Act, to commence from the date of filing her application in the Bureau of Pensions after the passage of this Act: And provided further, That the benefits of this act shall include those widows whose husbands if living, would have a pensionable status under the joint resolutions of February fifteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, July first, nineteen hundred and two, and June twenty-eight, nineteen hundred and six.

Section 4. That no claim agent or attorney shall be recognized in the adjudication of claims under the first and second sections of this Act.

FLOOD REFUGEES WITHOUT SHELTER AND LITTLE FOOD

(Associated Press Telegram)

New Orleans, Feb. 19.—Increased apprehension was felt today for the 2000 or more persons marooned around Newellton without food and with but scant shelter. Most of them are negro plantation laborers unable to reach safety when the Mississippi river broke through the levee at the Buck Ridge plantation. The crevasse is nearly 700 feet wide. The water is pouring through the crevasse four miles an hour. A quarter mile circle within a radius of twenty-five miles is flooded from six to fifteen feet while beyond this another 25 miles is covered with water from a few inches to one and two feet deep. The flood will not reach its climax for at least a week, authorities predict.

Having spent about $500,000 for road improvement and equipment a Swiss company will carry passengers over the Alps in electric automobiles.

STORY OF NAAMAN IS DRAMATIZED BY THE EVANGELIST

The sudden change in the weather did not dampen interest in the West Side revival meetings. About fifty young people remained for the social hour. Music, readings and conundrums made up the program, after which light refreshments were served. All went home feeling that the church can furnish a better social time for the young people than any other organization.

Evangelist MacDonald gave the sermon on monologue—a drama in three acts. It was the story of Naaman, the leper. The first was the picture of Naaman in his solitary of despair. Mr. MacDonald imitated the little Jewess and Naaman's conversation so that it seemed like two people talking. The most vivid scene was that of the leper's anger when Elisha would not cure him the way he wanted to be cured. The leper wanted to be cured and pay the bill and go on his way, like some people who want to pay their way into heaven without changing their life or obeying the word of the Lord.

The closing scene at the Jordan river was one of thrilling events. The work of the unnamed servant, the willingness of Naaman to dip in the Jordan, followed by his return to the prophet, teaches the three lessons of humble service, obedience and gratitude for being saved.

Evangelist MacDonald says that the Bible is the most thrilling story book to be found anywhere, and believes that the stories should be presented in a realistic manner, so they will be living lessons in memory.

MacDonaldism.

If the church can become a social center for the young people, the dance halls will have to close.

The church that looks its doors all through the week can't expect to save the young people on Sunday.

Give the boy a club room at the church if you want to keep them from loafing at the pool room and saloon.

Jesus said to the sinful woman, "Neither do I condemn thee; go, sin no more." If Jesus didn't condemn her, you dare not.

If people of different churches can't work together and love each other here, how do they expect to when they go to heaven?

The worst sectarian is the one who thinks that no one will get to heaven except his crowd.

You can't hate your brother on Monday and love him on Sunday.

You can't live crooked through the week and pray straight on Sunday.

More people die of broken hearts than with broken heads.

Sleep is nature's sweet restorer of the temper.

If you lose your temper, stop till you find it again.

If you get mad, don't apply for a divorce or run away till after you sleep. You may want to change your mind about it. Sleep off your mad spell, then pray.
